

QUALIFICATIONS FOR MOOSE LEGION MEMBERSHIP

Effective May 1, 2009, members in good standing in the Loyal Order of Moose are qualified to apply for membership, by invitation only advising him of his eligibility in the Moose Legion once meeting the following requirements:

1. Must be a good standing Lodge member,
2. Must have completed 1 year of Lodge membership, and
3. Must have sponsored at least 1 Lodge application that has been accepted through LCL.net.

- or -

1. Must be a good standing Lodge member,
2. Must have completed at least 6 months of Lodge membership, and
3. Must have sponsored at least 3 Lodge application that have been accepted through LCL.net

This now creates eligibility for the distinction of a Moose Legionnaire to be an earned degree of the Order. And, all earned degrees of the Fraternity shall be eligible to make application for the Council of Higher Degrees.

Once a member of the Loyal Order of Moose is eligible for elevation to the Moose Legion, he becomes eligible for life. If a Moose Legionnaire is dropped and decides to reinstate, he does not have to qualify yet again since he is merely paying back dues. If a member has been dropped from the Moose Legion rolls and has passed the 24 month timeline required for reinstatement of his Moose Legion membership, he may reenroll in the Moose Legion without need of any further requalification other than having been a Moose Legionnaire.

The Moose Legion Secretary will receive a listing of Moose Legion candidates within his jurisdiction within 30 days of each candidate's eligibility. Upon receipt of this list, the Moose Legion Secretary should then copy the applicable names to each Assistant Secretary representing each Moose Lodge within that Moose Legion jurisdiction.

Sponsor credits will be given for new and former members with points awarded toward the membership Medal of Honor and Elite Moose Legion Ring as have been established.

A Moose Legionnaire may hold membership in multiple Moose Legions even though he has no Moose Lodge affiliation within those additional Moose Legion jurisdictions.
